Podcasting - Content creation and sustainability

Joy Owango¹ Adelle Onyango²

¹TCC Africa, ²Legally Clueless

Published on: Jul 14, 2023
DOI: https://doi.org/10.21428/359fb1d2.8aada7ce
License: Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License (CC-BY 4.0)
TCC Africa collaborated with the Organization for Women in Science for the Developing World (OWSD) to organize a podcast training session focused on Podcast Creation and Sustainability. The aim of the session was to equip OWSD members with the necessary skills and knowledge to create and sustain their own podcasts. The session was led by Adelle Onyango, a well-known Kenyan co-host, who guided the participants through the step-by-step process of creating a podcast. With her extensive experience in the field, Adelle shared strategies on how to develop engaging and good-quality content, structure episodes effectively, and engage with listeners. She also guided the participants through the technical aspects of podcasting such as recording equipment, editing software, and distribution platforms.
Recording of the session

About Legally Clueless

Legally Clueless, is a new media organisation founded by Adelle Onyango a Kenyan media personality. She is also the Founder of the Adelle Onyango Initiative. Adelle has gained international recognition for her efforts to empower African women and youth and has been celebrated as one of Facebook's 2019 Icons of Change; Africa Youth Awards 100 Most Influential Young Africans for 2019; OkayAfrica’s 100 extraordinary African women for 2018; and BBC’s 100 inspirational and innovative women in the world for 2017

Website: https://www.adelleonyango.com/legallycluelessafrica

About The Organization for Women in Science for the Developing World (OWSD)

The Organization for Women in Science for the Developing World is an international organization that provides research training, career development and networking opportunities for women scientists throughout the developing world at different stages in their career.

Website: owsd.net

About TCC Africa

The Training Centre in Communication(TCC Africa), is the first African-based training centre to teach effective communication skills to scientists. TCC Africa is an award-winning Trust, established as a non-profit entity in 2006 and is registered in Kenya. TCC Africa provides capacity support in improving researchers’ output and visibility through training in scholarly and science communication.

Website: tcc-africa.org